

GeoAMPS Expands Headquarters Staff

A technology company specializing in software solutions to manage land rights and infrastructure assets, geoAMPS announced that Anthony Paletta has joined the company as Product Support Specialist. In this role, he will assist the company's growing customer base in adapting to their extensive product capabilities. Anthony previously worked as Project Manager at SecureState in Cleveland, where he managed project plan layout, scheduling, budgets and client communication. Anthony holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio.

“Anthony is a great addition to the team,” said Yogesh Khandelwal, company President and Chief Executive Officer. “He will work closely with our customers to provide the best-in-class service that has earned us a reputation as a strong technology partner for organizations that are leaders in their respective industries.”