POWELL, OH Growing technology company increases Product Support staff

"I am pleased to join a company that is moving industries forward through innovation, communication and strong customer service."

geoAMPS has added to its Product Support Team with the hiring of Jenelle Cooper as Product Support Analyst. In her new position, Jenelle works closely with geoAMPS clients, providing ongoing support and answering their questions.

"With her skills and experience, Jenelle will be key to helping our clients utilize geoAMPS' product capabilities to the full extent," Yogesh Khandelwal, President and Chief Executive Officer of geoAMPS, said. "She is a great addition to our already outstanding Product Support team."

Jenelle is a graduate of The Ohio State University, earning a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism Pre-Law. In the process of completing the requirements for her degree, Jenelle gained diverse experience in writing and customer service.

She served two and one half years as a reporter for The Lantern, Ohio State's student newspaper, and nearly three years as a Production Assistant at WOSU Public Media.

"I am pleased to join a company that is moving industries forward through innovation, communication and strong customer service," Jenelle said.

She was Communication Student Assistant for the OSU College of Engineering. In that position, she published articles for the quarterly College of Engineering magazine and its website, and wrote news releases.

Jenelle was a Legal Intern at Weisbuch Law and Associates, LLC, which afforded her the opportunity to correspond with clients and assist on cases. She also served as receptionist and clerical manager at WOSU Public Media.
